Mikoshi Sayaka's RARE CAR FILES

file 005 Vanden Plas Princess

The Vanden Plas Princess was a compact executive car sold by the British Motor Corporation (BMC) through their Vanden Plas brand. Based on the ADO16 platform designed by the Mini's father, Alec Issigonis, it set itself apart from its sisters, the Morris 1100 and Austin 1100, with a much higher class Connolly leather and walnut interior that almost reminds you of a Rolls Royce.

In its home country, the car was commonly considered a secondary car bought by richer families like Abbie's, apparently. You wouldn't believe how jealous I am.

TL Notes:

1. Her name is Avril, but the girls call her Abbie for short.
2. Page 25: she talks like she's from the Edo period, and Rico comments on that.
3. Page 26: The name here is actually "Sae".
I looked everywhere and the author either made a mistake, or Saya has a previously unseen sister named Sae who looks exactly like her.
Also the Mikoshiba name is a guesstimate, there's 15+ readings for that last name.
